Congratulations!

The quest for educational excellence is such a tedious process but certainly worth the effort.

It is my ardent hope and desire that you have already acquired the necessary knowledge, skills and attitude to face a new world, a new stage as you map out another chapter, crossroad or career path in your life.

May I therefore ask you to fashion your life in accordance with the standards set by your education leaders, teachers, friends and family. Your grit, determination and perseverance will help you thrive and survive whatever challenges and adversities life has to offer in the future.

May you always be enlightened by the Lord Almighty in everything that you do. I wish you all the best.

God bless!
